Banker Thomas A. “Andy” Scott Earns Diploma from Graduate School of Banking at Louisiana State University

RALEIGH, NC, June 7, 2011 — Steven R. Ogburn, President and Chief Executive Officer, announced today that Thomas A. “Andy” Scott received a graduation diploma on June 3, 2011 from the Graduate School of Banking at Louisiana State University. This comprehensive three-year program provides courses covering all aspects of banking, economics and related subjects with completion becoming requisite to professional advancement in many banks. During this program, participants receive rigorous classroom instruction, along with intensive study assignments between sessions and followed by written examinations at the end of each session. The faculty consists of bankers, business and professional leaders and university professors from across the United States.

“We are extremely pleased with Andy’s participation in and graduation from this prestigious school of banking and are fortunate to have him as a part of our team”, said Ogburn. He added, “This program will certainly be of benefit to Andy throughout his career. The knowledge and skills he continues to hone will serve to further benefit the business and professional clients he serves.”

Scott, who joined CapStone Bank in 2006, currently serves as Vice President/Commercial Relationship Manager and assists small and mid size businesses and professionals with their credit and other financial services needs. He is a graduate of the Kenan-Flagler Business School at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill where he received a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration. Additionally, he received a Master of Business Administration from East Carolina University.
